

For those who perform research- and development work on infection control in the Nordic countries

The Nordic Council of Ministers has supported the research network and this website. The aim is to stimulate the Nordic co-operation in research on infection control. To make it easier to identify potential partners in the other countries, we invite you to submit a short presentation of you or your group's actual research on the external website of Institute of Biomedicine at Gothenburg University.

It would be very helpful if you use the form below to provide us with the necessary information. Please, fill in the PDF form and download it from this website. Send it back to Rune Andersson. If anything is unclear, please contact me.
