PARTICIPATION IN COLLABORATIONS AND NETWORKS

- PARG (Political Advisers Research Group): a network consisting of 13 researchers from 11 countries started in 2016. We meet at conferences and workshops in order to discuss papers and joint publications. Current.
- CRIPPO (Comparative Research into Current Trends in Public Sector Organization): a COST-action and a European research network, which I am a part of since 2008. The network is led by Geert Bouckaert (Catholic Univ. of Leuven) and Per Lægreid (Univ. of Bergen) and includes 22 European partners. The purpose is to facilitate the collaboration between researchers in public administration by arranging conferences and to pay for research visits. Current.
- COBRA (Comparative Public Organisation Data Base for Research and Analysis): an international research network for which I collected survey data during my VR postdoc (2008-2010). The network is led by Geert Bouckaert (Catholic Univ. of Leuven) and Per Lægreid (Univ. of Bergen) and it includes researchers from 14 countries. The purpose is to collect comparable data regarding the steering, autonomy, organisation culture, and output of government agencies. Current.
- Collaboration with the research project "Från myndighetsinformation till myndighetspropaganda? En studie av svenska myndigheters opinionsbildande verksamhet", which is run by Hanna Kjellgren (Dept. of Political Science at the University West) and Bengt Johansson (JMG, GU). A joint data collection concerning the instructions and directions of the Swedish government agencies. Carried out in fall 2008.
- GFORS (Governance for Sustainability): a comparative EU project. The project included researchers from nine countries and was led by Hubert Heinelt (Hannover). Henry Bäck (School of Public Administration, GU) and Folke Johansson (Dept. of Political Science, GU) were in charge of the Swedish part of the project. I was active in 2007-2008.
- REKO (Regeringskansliet och samhällets organisering): an interdisciplinary research project led by Jon Pierre (Dept. of Political Science, GU), Bengt Jacobsson (School of Social Sciences, Södertörn Univ.) and Rune Premfors (Score, Stockholm Univ.). The project is composed of researchers in political science, business economics and management, and historians. Its focus was on the Swedish Government Offices. I was a part of the project in 2007-2009.

- Informal network on political elites: a network that was initiated by Trygve Gulbrandsen and Fredrik Engelstad in 2005. The network consisted of about 20 international scholars on political elites, among others Peter Munk Christiansen, Ilkka Ruostetsaari, John Higley, Gwen Moore, Maurizio Cotta, Heinrich Best, and Jean-Pascal Daloz. The network arranged joint conferences and facilitated the exchange of expertise and comparative data. I was active 2005-2006.
- Kön och eliternas sociala reproduktion i ett komparativt perspektiv: an intersectional research project that was led by Anita Göransson (Dept. of History, GU), but that also included scholars of journalism and political science. I participated as a graduate student (2000-2005).
