taxes in Washington?" a distinguished lawyer
"I've heard that will probably be a tax cut next year," I said as I popped an olive into my mouth. "Can you tell us what the President to do about Latin America?" "I'm sorry!" I said. "There are some things the President discusses with me that I just can't about in public." "Quite true," the lawyer agreed. "There's no point in revealing everything. You've probably told us more than you should done anyway." For the next three days I had more to dinner parties than I could accept. But it has quite a strain. I have to go on reading so many newspapers and watching so many TV shows from Washington that sometimes I wonder if it's the trouble.
