

Pre-election questionnaire edition 1

Welcome to the Swedish National Election Survey 2018

Along with 23 400 other voters, you have been selected to participate in the 28th National Election Survey that is conducted in Sweden. The survey results contribute to research on political influence and the democracy in Sweden. In-depth analyses of the results will continuously be presented on our website (www.gu.se/valforskningsprogrammet). The results are also used in educational materials in schools and universities.

This is how you fill in the survey

You answer the most questions by putting a cross in a box . Please use a ballpoint pen; not a pencil nor a felt pen. If you accidentally put a cross in the wrong box, fill the box fully and then put a new cross in the right box. If you find a question too difficult to answer you may skip it and continue with the next one.

When you are done

When you have filled in the survey, you put it in the return envelope and post it. The postage is already paid. If you have lost the answer envelope, you can use the following adress: Enkätenheten, Statistiska centralbyrån, 701 89 ÖREBRO. As soon as your survey has arrived, we note that you have answered, and you will not get any more reminders.

Pre-election questionnaire edition 2

Welcome to the Swedish National Election Survey 2018

Along with 23 400 other voters, you have been selected to participate in the 28th National Election Survey that is conducted in Sweden. The survey results contribute to research on political influence and the democracy in Sweden. In-depth analyses of the results will continuously be presented on our website (gu.se/valforskningsprogrammet). The results are also used in educational materials in schools and universities.

This is how you fill in the survey

You answer the most questions by putting a cross in a box . Please use a ballpoint pen, not a pencil nor a felt pen. If you accidentally put a cross in the wrong box, fill the box fully and then put a new cross in the right box. If you find a question too difficult to answer you may skip it and continue with the next one.

When you are done

When you have filled in the survey, you put it in the return envelope and post it. The postage is already paid. If you have lost the answer envelope, you can use the following adress: Enkätenheten, Statistiska centralbyrån, 701 89 ÖREBRO. As soon as your survey has arrived, we note that you have answered, and you will not get any reminders.

Post-election questionnaire edition 1

Welcome to the Swedish National Election Survey 2018

Along with 23 400 other voters, you have been selected to participate in the 28th National Election Survey that is conducted in Sweden. The survey results contribute to research on political influence and democracy in Sweden. In-depth analyses of the results will continuously be presented on our website (www.gu.se/valforskningsprogrammet). The results are also used in educational materials in schools and universities.

This is how you fill in the survey

You answer the most questions by putting a cross in a box . Please use a ballpoint pen, not a pencil nor a felt pen. If you accidentally put a cross in the wrong box, fill the box fully and then put a new cross in the right box. If you find a question too difficult to answer you may skip it and continue with the next one.

When you are done

When you have filled in the survey, you put it in the return envelope and post it. The postage is already paid. If you have lost the answer envelope, you can use the following adress: Enkätenheten, Statistiska centralbyrån, 701 89 ÖREBRO. As soon as your survey has arrived, we note that you have answered and you will not get any reminders.

Post-election questionnaire edition 2

Welcome to the Swedish National Election Survey 2018

Along with 23 400 other voters, you have been selected to participate in the 28th National Election Survey that is conducted in Sweden. The survey results contribute to research on political influences and democracy in Sweden. In-depth analyses of the results will continuously be presented on our website (www.gu.se/valforskningsprogrammet). The results are also used in educational materials in schools and universities.

This is how you fill in the survey

You answer the most questions by putting a cross in a box . Please use a ballpoint pen, not a pencil nor a felt pen. If you accidentally put a cross in the wrong box, fill the box fully and then put a new cross in the right box. If you find a question too difficult to answer you may skip it and continue with the next one.

When you are done

When you have filled in the survey, you put it in the return envelope and post it. The postage is already paid. If you have lost the answer envelope, you can use the following adress: Enkätenheten, Statistiska centralbyrån, 701 89 ÖREBRO. As soon as your survey has arrived, we note that you have answered and you will not get any reminders.
