

Exempel på bedömda elevtexter årskurs 9

Här ges exempel på autentiska elevtexter som illustrerar olika nivåer avseende skriftlig produktion och interaktion i engelska för årskurs 9.

Underlag för exemplen är uppgiften Being a Teen – Now and in the Future, där eleven inbjuds att skriva en text till en internationell konferens om ungdomsfrågor.

För respektive nivå finns ett exempel med en utförlig kommentar som motiverar bedömningen. Dessutom finns för dessa nivåer också två okommenterade exempel som kan användas av lärare och elever för diskussion om en texts olika kvaliteter. Texterna visar olika kvaliteter beträffande såväl språk som innehåll.

Exempel 1–3 bedöms motsvara följande delar av kriterierna för engelska i åk 9:

I skriftlig framställning formulerar sig eleven enkelt, begripligt och relativt sammanhängande. Avseende interaktion uttrycker sig eleven enkelt och begripligt samt i någon mån anpassat till syfte, mottagare och situation. Dessutom använder eleven strategier som i viss utsträckning underlättar och förbättrar interaktionen.

Being a Teen - Now and in the Future

I live in a small town called X. To be a teen where i live is simple because it never happend something in the town where i lives. In the week it is the same thing everyday when you wake up in the morning the first thing thing you do is breakfast and shcool. After school you go to gym or another sort of sport like hockey or fotball or study. In X you see many mopeds it is very popular by the teens and i own a moped. On the weekend it is happning more especily in the summer because it is much peoples that walk and hanging around the city. And where i lives it is like different gangs beetween de teens like those who drives a EPA (a car that you can drive when you 15) they are like one gang that hanging in a diffrent plays like a parking lot or driving around. And fore example thoes who has a moped dont bee with they who as a EPA, Not in every case but it is often like that.

Three that are important for a teenager is school, friends and internet.

School is imortant beacause you want to be succesfull and get in to the highschool that you want or get the job you dream of. But shcool does take much time and energy for the teens and they are in many case lazy and tired of school and if you dont prestich so good that you thought you whuold do it is easy to feel bad and low.

The next thing is friends, friends is very important to teens so you can do something fun maybe after school or something beacause when you feel low of bad or low it is nice to feel that you have friends to do fun things with so you dont mind the bad things that are in your head. But it can be tuff in diffrent periods to if you dont have friends that can made you feel feel very sad and friends and bulling and if a friend groupe push you to do things that you dont want do can lead to suicide.

Now on the last years internet and social medie really blow up. It is all sorts of peoples on soceial media it is from young kids to old grandphas but also many that shouldent be there. for teens is social media very imortant and many of them lives in there phones. I think social media is good in some things beacause you can find very much information and news and learn new things but internet also have the dark side. It takes over teenagers head and made them think like of you dont look and are dressed like she you are bad and ugly and all the hate on internet it is very easy to get lots of comments that are hating on you

I really think it is going to change in the future beacuse i know the kids now how grose some of them talk and that is the social medias fault. It is a big change how the kids and teens are dressed from when i was a kid beacause no one used the internet like that before.

Kommentar till Exempel 1:

Detta exempel visar en prestation där eleven med hjälp av enkla formuleringar förmedlar ett begripligt och relativt sammanhängande innehåll med utgångspunkt från den givna uppgiften. Texten inleds med en beskrivning av livet som tonåring i staden där eleven bor och några exempel på vad som är populärt och typiskt ges (the first thing thing you do is breakfast and shcool; After school you go to gym; it is like different gangs). Innehållet utvecklas något genom förtydliganden, vilket gör texten lättare att följa och förstå (like hockey or fotball or study; especily in the summer; a car that you can drive when you 15; like a parking lot). Härigenom visas viss medvetenhet om en tänkt mottagare. Efter den inledande delen behandlas några ämnen som ses som betydelsefulla i en tonårings liv (school, friends and internet). Innehållet i texten breddas något genom att för- och nackdelar diskuteras (School is imortant beacause you want to be succeffull; But shcool does take much time and energy; is nice to feel that you have friends; But it can be tuff in diffrent periods to; you can find very much information ... but internet also have the dark side). Olika perspektiv lyfts alltså fram, vilket bidrar till anpassning till uppgiftens syfte. Dock utvecklas resonemangen inte i någon större utsträckning. Vid något tillfälle kan innehållet vara svårt att tyda (if you dont prestich so good) och textens kortfattade sista del, angående framtiden, är inte helt sammanhängande (It is a big change how the kids and teens are dressed from when i was a kid beacause no one used the internet like that before). På en övergripande nivå är innehållet dock begripligt och relativt sammanhängande.

Avseende språkligt omfång används ett grundläggande ord- och frasförråd, ibland med någon bredd (parking lot; lazy; push you to do things; suicide; comments; fault). Enkla sambandsord bidrar till att skapa sammanhang (because; And; but; also). Det finns exempel på språklig precision som underlättar för läsaren att följa texten (where i live; or another sort of sport like hockey; Not in every case but it is often like that; or get the job you dream of). Dock framkommer viss osäkerhet i grammatiska mönster, exempelvis gällande meningsbyggnad och verbbehandling, vilket påverkar textens tydlighet och flöde (it never happand something in the town where i lives; thoes who has a moped dont bee with they who; that can made you feel). Interpunktionen är ibland något osäker och det förekommer några stavfel och tangentfel, men detta inverkar inte nämnvärt på begripligheten.

Being a Teen - Now and in the Future

My name is X and i am 16 years old. I am a teenager and I think my life rhigt now is perfect. Here seems teenager like they can do much. It is easy to get a job and the trust on teenagers is good. We can start to drive cars and get a work at age 16. But to older people like 20 years old, We seems like we are babies and kids.

I think it would be good if every teenagers has an activity. Because have an activity makes young people to know other in the same age. It help them to not only know people in school, and it makes them to move themself and not just sit at home all day, and it makes them lern to help eachother like a team. In the school world I belive it can be more penn to write. Not just computers and phones. Because in the way I see it we lern more from write with a penn and less with a computer.

I think life as a teenager would change so every one is having a phone in their brains. Teenenger are not even going to seen eachother, they are just writhe to eachother. The school is going to be at home and all teenagers are just sitting in the bed all day. They are never coming out. And I also think that the teenagers is going to have harder chanches to find a work. Because it would be advances work and not many work at the market because the computer is going to change the world.

Being a Teen - Now and in the Future

Hello my name is X and I live in a samll town, named Y. Where I live being a teenager can be difficult for some people. The hardest time to being a teenager is in high school, I think. It was for me, it is mutch work in school and most hardest is to fit in. In high school you can say that you are learning who you are and witch people who fit in withe. If you look in a classroom you can easaly see who hangs out withe who. But it's changes offcours withe the years and friendship's changes you find out who is real friend and who is not.

Some issues that need's to say and discuss is to be a teen. You need to learn that you are growing up. School is hard and after school also and you just need to except that. And some other thing's teenagers need to learn is that one fail in a test is ok some times. Everything you do in school are not your hole future.

I think I need and you need to discuss the social media. The social media is the biggest beast when you are a teen. Everything is one the media and it is very sad, if you think about it. You need to be very careful in the media one small comment and you are out. People rite bad thing behind your back that is not true. So the media is a very big thing when you are a teenager. and the teenagers need to learn how to use the media right.

If we not learning this things some people maybe is going in depression in there hole life's. Because it is hard to be an teen. But it's very loving to, being a teen you take more risk and you feel more free to do what you whant, you make your own choses.

So to be a teenager is very hard but it is also very fun.

Exempel 4–6 bedöms motsvara följande delar av kriterierna i engelska för år 9:

I skriftlig framställning formulerar sig eleven med viss variation, relativt tydligt och relativt sammanhängande samt med visst flyt och i någon mån anpassat till syfte, mottagare och situation. Avseende interaktion uttrycker sig eleven relativt tydligt och med visst flyt samt i någon mån anpassat till syfte, mottagare och situation. Dessutom använder eleven strategier som underlättar och förbättrar interaktionen.

Exempel 4

I like being a teen because I have a lot of friends that I think is very important when you are a young person because it can teach you about how you should be to others and you can have great times with them. I have made so many memories when I did fun things with them, and that makes me happy as a teen to know that I have a lot of friends that like me. I also like being a teen when you get older like fifteen years old, then you start to get more grown and you can do more things on your own, it's very important because it teaches you about your future and how to be a grown person.

I think that the youth conference should focus more on kids being outside, today most kids usually stay inside and play on their phone or watch movies all day, but I think it's really important to go outside and hang out with friends and family. If this keeps going in the future the world is gonna look so boring and the majority would stay inside. Kinda feels like the world is dying. I suggest that when kids have one week off school they should go outside more and hang out with friends rather than sitting inside all day.

Another thing that I suggest that the youth conference should focus more on is the environment, today it's very often that people throw garbage and other stuff on the ground and not in a garbage bag. If this keeps on going it's gonna affect other things around like animals. A lot of animals die today because of people throwing their garbage in the ocean for example. Humans need to start thinking of what this can lead to or else the world is gonna die and all the animals is gonna die. I feel really bad for them and I want more people to help and take away all the garbage outside.

I think that it's good to be a teen because they are the hope for the future, they are growing up and getting a job, that makes the future better and if teens today start doing more good things like work in the summer or help your neighbour with something.

Kommentar till Exempel 4:

Detta exempel visar en prestation där eleven med visst flyt och viss variation formulerar ett relativt tydligt och relativt sammanhängande innehåll. Texten tar avstamp i uppgiftsinstruktionen och behandlar olika aspekter av ämnet både utifrån ett personligt och ett generellt perspektiv. Inledningsvis presenteras några personliga tankar om vad det innebär att vara ung (I like being a teen because I have a lot of friends; it can teach you about how you should be to others; I have made so many memories when I did fun things with them). Detta följs av förslag och uppmaningar, vilket bidrar till innehållslig bredd och variation (I think that the youth conference should focus more on; I suggest that when kids have one week off school they should; Humans need to start thinking). Innehållet förtydligas med hjälp av förklaringar och konkreta exempel (play on their phone or watch movies; people throwing their garbage in the ocean; work in the summer or help your neighbour), samt reflektioner och åsikter (but I think it's really important; I feel really bad for them and I want more people to help; they are the hope for the future). Tillsammans bidrar detta till anpassning av framställningen till mottagare, syfte och situation. Tydlig styckeindelning samt textbindning i form av fraser som länkar samman innehållet (If this keeps going; rather then; Another thing that; what this can lead to; or else) bidrar till att texten blir lätt att följa.

Vad gäller språkets omfång används ett förhållandevis brett förråd av ord och fraser samt en del fasta uttryck (made memories; on you own; how to be a grown person; hang out; one week off; garbage; feel bad for). Meningsbyggnaden är relativt varierad och verbbehandling fungerar i allmänhet, exempelvis avseende villkorsbisatser och användning av -ingform (I also like being; If this keeps going; rather then sitting inside; beacuse of people throwing; Humans need to start thinking). Detta bidrar till viss språklig variation och till visst flyt. Stavningen är mestadels god. Några gånger märks osäkerhet i interpunktionen men det inverkar inte nämnvärt på tydligheten. Texten innehåller några uttryck som oftast används i talat språk (is gonna look; Kinda feels like; is gonna die), men som helhet bedöms den visa någon mån av anpassning till syfte, mottagare och situation.

Being a Teen - Now and in the Future

To be a teen where i live nowadays is both hard and easy, our generation is grown up with the internet. We have never expired a life without our phones. You can have contact with your friends and family very easy. The internet is bigger than the entire world. Because we uses our phones that much, our health is getting worse. Bullying is wery common on the internet in my shcool. People are writing mean things to eachother about other people. When our moms and dads were in our age they was out and playing with friends, teengers today sit inside and chat with eachother and playing games online. In almost every lesson in school we uses our computers, we are never witing on papers or things like that anymore. I can search for a quuestion online and in a second you can read all the informations and facts. For example, you can get every news online and on TV.

I think that the youth conference should focus on teenagers health and lifestyle. I belive that teenagers today dont move so much, many teenagers are giving up their career in fotball for example, because they want to sit inside and play games all day long. Teenagers need fresh air to live, we need to get out and move, we need to get out for a walk at least. I also belive that we are getting more and more "anti-social" in public. We dont like to talk that much anymore in real life because we are getting so used to speak or write online. I really think that this is a big problem. In my family for example, were almost never sit down for a talk or so, we just sit with our phones all day, even my sister that is 8 years old is addicted to her phone.

Teenagers life in the future may change, i think that many social platforms are getting deleted because people are so addicted to it, that it gets dangerous. I also think that all education in school will be on computers or ipads. Bullying will never stop, so i think that many teenagers will be bullied on the social media. But i think that people will get smarter at a younger age because we can se everything in one second on google. Teenagers interest will also change, what i like to do now will maby be the worst thing a teenager in 100 years think. I belive that our wold is going to change a lot, so teenagers life will change as well.

Exempel 6

I'm going to write a text about teenagers and what youth conference should talk about more.

For me being a teen is very fun and enjoyable, I enjoy being a teen. My home country is X, but I moved to Sweden one year ago and it was never hard for me to get new friends or talk to people, I feel welcome in the new country and my hockey team.

I would suggest that the youth conference should focus more on getting more young people to play sports. I think that if young people start playing a sport at a young age, then they grow up with more memories. Also they stay healthy when they do sports and they can set some dreams from young age. Also they would get many friends from sports and it's good for them, because every person needs a friend or a best friend.

For me I started playing hockey when I was about six years old and I have never thought about quitting, because I have so many friends and memories throughout the years and I just can't stop. It would feel wrong if I would stop. My second thing youth conference should talk about is getting teens to find their right music taste. When a teen finds their favourite music artist, they have someone to look up to and they can listen to their song and try to be more like them. Music artists are successful people and if kids look up to them, they follow them on social media, they can see what they did to become successful and do the same things and also be successful, like the person they were looking up to as kids.

In future life as a teenager would maybe not be so different from now, teens would still go to school, play sports, be active, go out with their friends, go shopping in the mall, nothing much different from nowadays. Many kids would be active on social media, like they are now. Also I hope there would be teens that are 100% dedicated to their dreams, like being a professional hockey player or a soccer player and they would never ever give up on their dreams, because having dreams to become someone, is never a bad thing.

Exempel 7–9 bedöms motsvara följande delar av kriterierna i engelska för åk 9:

I skriftlig framställning formulerar sig eleven med viss variation, tydligt och sammanhängande samt med flyt och viss anpassning till syfte, mottagare och situation. Angående interaktion uttrycker sig eleven tydligt och med flyt samt med viss anpassning till syfte, mottagare och situation. Dessutom använder eleven strategier som underlättar och förbättrar interaktionen och för den framåt på ett konstruktivt sätt.

Exempel 7

I live in a quite small city called X in Sweden. On a weekday a typical teenager goes to school for about 7 h then spends the rest of the day doing other activities. Activities like doing their homework, hanging out with friends, playing sports or playing videogames.

The environment is a problem I think most teenagers worry about. Many adults don't care for it too much, but that's just because they will not experience it the same way we will. The environment will affect our entire future and if we don't manage to stop climate change, we might not even have a planet we can live on. It will for example be hard to plant crops and through that hard to produce food for everyone. When the consequences really hit us, most grown ups will probably not be there to experience it. That's why we need to make adults understand the consequences for us and start thinking about us too.

The internet is a place where almost everyone spends a lot of their time. Therefore internet safety is a big problem. There are a lot of people online trying to scam, impersonate or do other things to harm people. There are a lot of things that are bad with this, people get scammed of money, people can get their mental health hurt or even get hurt physically. If the internet is going to be a big part of our future it has to be a safe place. There are a lot of things that can be done to make the internet safer that are not that hard to do, for example making the punishments harsher.

In the future being a teenager will most likely be very different. The digital world is already a big part of everyone's lives, and in the future that part will almost be guaranteed to be greater than today. School might be more digitalized, maybe even to the point where we don't even go to a physical place, but instead go to school online. School is a place where a lot of teenagers meet their friends, which would change if this were to happen. Most friends would in that case be online friends, which is not really the same thing. Most of our social skills are from meeting people in real life and not online. People that don't meet people in the real world are also most of the time more socially awkward. This is because you don't learn things like for example reading body language. Meeting people in real life is also important for your mental health since we as a species are meant to meet people this way. Because of this it's likely that even more teenagers than today will have a bad mental health.

Digitalizing doesn't necessarily make the future a worse place for teens. It might also for example make it so you can "be" with your friends all of the time and make it easier to make friends from all over the world.

Kommentar till Exempel 7:

Detta exempel visar en prestation där eleven formulerar sig tydligt och sammanhängande, med viss variation samt med flyt. Texten har ett fylligt innehåll som är resonerande till sin karaktär. Flera aspekter av ämnet avhandlas, till största delen utifrån ett generellt perspektiv. Sammanhanget i texten, den röda tråden, stärks med hjälp av god textbindning (but thats just because; and through that; Thats why; Therefore; but instead; It might also). Genom förklaringar och exempel utvecklas och förtydligas framställningen (for example making the punnishments harsher; because you don't learn things like for example reading body language; since we as a speicis are ment to meet people this way). Innehållet fördjupas när eleven reflekterar och resonerar (and if we don't manage to stop climate change, we might not evem; maby even to the point were; Digitalizing don't necesarely). På så sätt visas viss anpassning till syfte, mottagare och situation.

Avseende språkligt omfång innehåller texten ett brett och relativt varierat ordförråd (experience; affect; crops; consequenses; scam; impersonate; harm; punnishments; speicis). Användningen av adjektiv och adverb bidrar till tydlighet och variation i framställningen (a typical teenager; probably; harsher; most likley; in real life; socialy akward; a worse place; necesarely; make it easier). Den språkliga precisionen är i allmänhet god, exempelvis avseende ordval och grammatiska strukturer. Flyt skapas genom god och tämligen varierad meningsbyggnad samt i huvudsak säker verbhantering (Many adults don't care; When the consequenses realy hit us; being a teenager will most likley be very different; would change if this were to; are ment to meet). De stavfel eller tangentfel som förekommer inverkar inte på tydligheten i nämnvärd grad.

Being a teen - Now and in the future

Being a teen can be both good and bad for me. I think that the lifestyles of teens vary alot from person to person but generally speaking I argue that there are more pros for being a teen than cons in todays sociaty. Social media is a big part of the youngsters life today beacause evryone has a phone and thats the way one communicate. I think that it is amazing how you can talk to someone from across the globe. Technology makes it extremly easy to be social online but also takes away some peoples IRL friends. For people my age friends are important beacause you get to learn how to behave socially and feel independent but if your only friends is on the internet it might be hard to go out and learn how the real world is and get experience. A big part of my and my generations life is school. We study for succes and to become a part of the sociaty we live in. I am together with many people exited to start highschool.

Some things that the todays teens have to go thru I consider unfair but some of them I can understand. When people my age are looking for summer or part time jobs they can be declined only beacause the adults have little to no trust in young people. I think that is unfair beacause the older generations have to let the younger ones in, and we do not make alot of money so finding a job is crucial if we for examlpe want to start saving money for a drivers license. I find my generations to be quite toxic. Due to anonymity online people can say whatever they want without the conuquences and that can lead to bullying. Many people i know have been in some very stupid and unecessecary drama. I think that that is superficial and very esily avoidable but it seems as tho my generation often seeks the attention it gives. Some of the things my generatation have grown up with are climate change. We have seen it on the news and heard it on the radio so it is something that always have been in the back of atleast my mind. Being a teen and having to worry about climate change is not something that I think is normal even tho it is for our generation.

In the future say fifty years from now I think that the teenagers will have better technology but not use it as much as now. We are still learning how to manage all this screen time so i think that by then they will have figured it out. My view on how the teens lifestyle will be is that they will be homeschooled for the most part and when the talk on the phone they will use holograms on small watches.

Exempel 9

My teenage life is a little bit overwhelming. There's a lot of stuff happening all the time. I'm still in school and on the side of it I dance pretty much all the time. I also have to make time for being with my friends and doing my homework. The pressure from school, my parents and myself is exhausting. I need to get good grades at schools but I also need to be the best at dancing. At least that's how I feel. That I need to be the best at everything because if I'm not I will be a disappointment to the whole world.

Being a teen now is quite different from the past I think. Now there's social media and almost every teenager is very addicted to it. I feel like life nowadays has so much more pressure on it than it did in the past. You see people on social media traveling, studying, working and doing important things for the environment and they somehow get it all together. Everyone is making it look so easy. I think that a lot of teenagers feel pressured from that. That they need to do all of those things for their life to have a meaning. I think that social media is a very big problem today because of all the pressure to be perfect like all the influencers. And I think it is that way because the influencers never show the bad sides of life. The times when you cry, are angry or even depressed. They put on a smile and let people think that life is easy.

Another issue today is the environment. With the world temperature rising at this rate I think that young people today will not get the chance to meet their grandkids. People talk a lot about the environment on social media. But I don't really feel like it's doing that much of a change. The temperature is still rising and climate change is still happening. It is really important for teenagers today to actually care about these things. It's us that will live in this world in the future. If we don't do anything about it we're not going to have anywhere to live.

I hope that in the future teenagers have started to care more about the environment and also learned that almost all social media is fake. In that way I think more teenagers will be happier and more excited to live. I also hope that social media gets "cleaner" from all the bad influence it has on kids. That they no longer will become insecure and/or depressed from all the pressure.
