The Ethnographic Experience

Organizers:

Michael Hviid Jacobsen & Emma Engdahl

Venue:

Hotel Viking in Sæby

Time: October 30th 2013 (Noon) – November 1st 2013 (Noon)

Aim:

There are many ways to obtain knowledge about the social world. Ethnography is one of them. Ethnography, however, comes in many different guises. The purpose of the course is to discuss different aspects of the methods, analysis and utility of ethnographic work. Moreover, the course aims at challenging, developing and expanding conventional understandings of ethnography. PhD students are expected to present their own ethnographic work during the course. The course will be a mixture of keynote presentations, student presentations and workshops. Moreover, we will be watching a film about ethnography.

Speakers:

Philip Lalander (Sweden): Devance and Ethnography

Emma Engdahl (Sweden/Denmark): Visual Culture as Ethnography

Mikael Carleheden & Michael Hviid Jacobsen (Sweden/Denmark): Theory as Ethnography, Literature as Ethnography

Michael Hviid Jacobsen & Søren Kristiansen (Denmark): Institutional Ethnography

ECTS points:

2 ECTS for participation all days and 5 ECTS points for presentation of paper
